

Daniel Janke
Winter Trio – Available Light

Daniel Janke (piano) is a composer, improviser, and writer based in Yukon, Canada. His music work is eclectic, crossing many genres and disciplines. Daniel's piano style is heavily influenced by an upbringing in gospel music. Available Light is a new iteration of his group Winter Trio. Other recent collaborations by Daniel Janke include work with violinist Mark Fewer; and clarinetist François Houle. Recording releases include Body In Motion [2022, Centrediscs]; and Crystalline with François Houle [2022].

Ariel Tessier (drums) is originally from Pau, France. He studied at CRR and CNSM in Paris, where he graduated in 2013. In 2015, he first visited New York which turned out to be decisive. A very active musician on the Parisian scene, Ariel also performs regularly elsewhere in France and abroad within many renowned musicians such as Riccardo del Fra, Pierrick Pedron, Antoine Hervé. He is the winner of several national competitions including that of “Jazz à la Défense” and “Jazz Migration”.

Contrebassiste Basile Rahola is from Barcelona, and currently lives in Brussels. In 2013 Basile entered the jazz department of the National School of Music in Villeurbanne, Lyon. Basile has played internationally in Spain, Belgium, Tunisia, United Arab Emirates, Italy, Slovakia, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, and Morocco. He continues his career as a musician based in Brussels, Belgium, where he plays with his main projects Baz Trio and Basile Rahola Quartet.
